Submitted a Preamble and Resolutions, viz:

Whereas, There is now pending before the legislature of this Commonwealth a bill providing for an out-let lock from the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania Canal at a place called "Black's Eddy," opposite the entrance of the feeder of the Delaware and Raritan Canal: And whereas the proposed out-let lock by tapping our State works will be destructive to the best interests of Philadelphia by diverting the coal and coasting trade from where it legitimately belongs, to the city of New York, by constituting that city a principal depot of our anthracite coal to the prejudice of Philadelphia, by enhancing the price of products from the Eastern States consumed here and now brought in exchange for our coal, and perhaps render us tributary to New York and the Delaware and Raritan Canal for such products, and lastly, by depriving Philadelphia of the benefit of those public works which her capital has mainly tended to perfect in order to bestow it upon a rival city, and powerful monopoly; Therefore

Resolved, That the Presidents of the Select and Common Councils be requested, respectively, on behalf of those bodies, to memorialize the legislature against the passage of the provisions for the proposed out-let lock at "Black's Eddy," and to request our representatives in the legislature to use all suitable means to prevent its passage.

“An Ordinance relating to the regulation of Lombard street.”

Be it ordained and enacted by the Citizens of Philadelphia, in Select and Common Councils assembled, That the regulation of ascents and descents of Lombard street, now in the progress of being opened by order of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the City and County of Philadelphia, from Delaware Avenue to Front street, and the intersection of said Lombard and Front streets, be and the same is hereby established according to a plan made by Samuel Hains, Esq., City Surveyor, and which depresses Front street at the intersection on the eastern, three feet, and on the western side two feet, any Ordinance to the contrary notwithstanding.

APPENDIX, No. III.

To William Rawle, Esq., President Common Council:

Sir,—In a conversation with Commodore Elliott, U. S. Navy, at Harrisburg, in September last, he expressed a desire to present to the city of Philadelphia, a Sarcophagus of much value, brought by him to this country. I suggested the Girard College as a suitable depository for it, and have received the accompanying letter from Commodore Elliott, with drawings of the sculpture, which I request may be laid before Councils for their decision.

Very respectfully, sir, your obedient servant,
Philada. Nov. 1, 1838. I. ROACH.

Carlisle, September 19, 1838.

Dear Sir,—I am pleased to learn by the conversation I had with you, at the unexpected meeting at Harrisburg, that your connexion with the erection of the Girard College at Philadelphia, might enable you to present a facility by which the valuable relic of antiquity obtained at Syria during my visit last summer, and brought home in the Constitution, might have a connexion with it.

The Sarcophagus is of Roman origin, and is believed to exist with the second century; was obtained about three quarters of a mile north-east of the present city of Beyroot, where once stood the ancient city of Beritus; it is of pure white marble, ornamented with sacrificial and other devices as represented in the accompanying drawing, and appears to me might appropriately be connected with the Institution which, when completed, will be both ornamental and useful to the city of Philadelphia.

Should this tender be accepted, it will afford me much satisfaction to forward the authority by which it may be removed from the Navy Yard at Norfolk, its present temporary depository, to that of Girard College, Philadelphia, its permanent abode.

With very great regard and esteem, I am, very truly, yours,
 J. DUNCAN ELLIOTT.

P. S. On referring to one of the Journals of the city of Philadelphia, a more detailed description may be had.

Major Isaac Roach, late of the U. S. Army, Philadelphia.

APPENDIX, No. VII.

The Committee on Highways, to whom was referred the memorial of Dr. E. Earle, requesting the attention of Councils to his method of mineralizing wood for the purpose of preserving it from the ravages of the Dry Rot, and from insects, beg leave to

REPORT:

That they have fully considered the subject submitted to them, and through the medium of a personal interview with Dr. Earle, have availed themselves of all the information that they can at present obtain on the nature and probable value of his method.

His process consists in boiling the timber for six, eight or ten hours, either in a solution of the sulphates of iron and copper, or in a lac calcis, or milk of lime, prepared with lime and water, of about the consistence of white wash, in tanks adapted to the purpose.

If the sulphates are used, the proportions are about 8 lbs. of sulphate of iron, 1 lb. of sulphate of copper, to 12 gallons of water; the sulphate of copper is chiefly employed to render the impregnating solution more obnoxious to insects.

Dr. Earle exhibited to the Committee specimens of different kinds of wood, which, from the green state, had in a few hours been perfectly seasoned and fully impregnated by his method with the different mineral agents employed; as proved by chymical tests applied to the interior, by splitting the blocks: wherever there was sap, the infiltration had evidently been most abundant, though it had very perceptibly imbued the heart of the wood.

It is well understood that the Dry Rot in timber is the result of the corruptible nature of the albumen which is contained in its pores in greater or less proportion, according to the kind of timber, and by its tendency to putrefaction, lays the foundation of decay. Though found in the heart, it abounds most in that part of timber called sap, and hence the greater liability of this to be destroyed by Dry Rot. All processes, therefore, that have for their object the preservation of timber, to be successful, must be based upon the principle of either removing the albumen, or altering its character by chymical agents, so as to render it incapable of decomposition.

This, boiling alone will to a considerable degree effect, as albumen is coagulated by heat, and is moreover liable to be driven out in a great measure by the hot water which occupies its place, and deposits substances held in solution, in the pores of the wood which will act on the remaining albumen, and render it less liable to decompose. That the ingredients used by Dr. Earle are calculated to produce this result, is probable from the fact, that some acids and thin salts, when the acid is in excess, have this property by coagulating albumen, and that lime is extensively known to be preservative of timber.

There are some facts, also, that go strongly to prove the preservative character of Dr. Earle's process. It is well known that the wooden tanks or vats in which copperas, or sulphate of iron is prepared, are not subject to the Dry Rot, but become hard and indestructible. Vessels also, that are constantly employed in transporting lime, are not known to decay, the timbers remaining sound for a long period.

It must, however, be confessed, that this method has not yet been subjected to such severe tests as other processes can boast; but if time and experience shall confirm its efficacy, it will present a two-fold advantage not enjoyed by any other mode. These are cheapness and expedition. It will cost, to impregnate timber, near two-thirds less than the process by corrosive sublimate, and instead of requiring fourteen or fifteen days, ten or twelve hours are sufficient to effect the object. The cost, at present prices, as stated by Dr. Earle, exclusive of the tank, is, with the sulphates, 7 cents per cubic foot, or \$5 28 per thousand board measure—with lime, $3\frac{1}{2}$ cents per cubic foot, or \$2 33 per thousand board measure—average if both are used, 5 3-10 cents per cubic foot, or \$3 80 per thousand.

The price is somewhat enhanced in large timber over 6 inches diameter, as it is proposed by Dr. Earle to bore it from end to end, to allow of perfect saturation with the ingredients; under 6 inches, this is effected without boring.

From the foregoing considerations the Committee are of opinion, that Dr. Earle's method will be found on trial, to be adequate to the purposes intended, in confirmation of which they beg leave to present to Councils the following letters to Dr. Earle from Messrs. Jno. Farr, and E. Durand, both well known practical chymists.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16, 1838.

DR. EARLE:

Dear Sir—From the reputed effects of corrosive sublimate, in the preservation of timber from Dry Rot, I can see no just cause to doubt that similar effects may be obtained by a solution of the salts of iron or copper. The specimen of wood submitted was evidently strongly penetrated with the solution.

Very respectfully, yours,

JOHN FARR.

Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1838.

Dear Sir—

It affords me much pleasure to give you the favourable opinion I entertain of your process for preserving timber from the attacks of insects and from the destruction of Dry Rot.

The materials you employ, lime and the sulphates of iron and copper, are, I think, admirably calculated, by their mutual reaction, to produce the desired effect; and your method of applying them, is judiciously contrived to give them their greatest influence.

Yours, very respectfully,

Dr. Ed. Earle, Philadelphia.

E. DURAND.

In conclusion, the Committee would respectfully recommend Dr. Earle's process to the favourable notice of Councils, with a view to its employment whenever the public service may demand the use of timber for wooden pavements or other purposes.

The Committee further report, that in carrying out an ordinance of Councils relating to the regulation of Lombard street, passed 1st instant, their progress was arrested by an injunction from the Court of Quarter Sessions, on complaint of the owners of property on Front street adjacent to the same, disputing the right of Councils to make any alteration in the regulation of said street; the whole matter was subsequently argued before Judge King, yet up to this time no decision has been given. The season being so far advanced as to render it necessary that the work should proceed with all possible despatch, the Committee have deemed it most expedient to enter into a compromise with the parties interested, and herewith offer to Councils an ordinance, with a plan of the street for their adoption.

City, - - - -	2,272 25
The increase, after having suffered a deduction of $1179 06, for rent declined, &c., for the year 1839, is - - - - -	$ 7,036 63

By examination of the expenditure for the last eight years, it will be found that the averaged expenses per annum, will amount to 59,511 dollars, while the estimate for the present year is 28,000 dollars. The increased expenses of the former was owing to the expensive work, which is now completed, viz. erection of new water-wheel and pumps, building additional reservoirs, and the extending the iron main in Broad street, which were deemed essential, owing to the increased supply of water necessary for the City and Districts. In the estimate for 1839, the Committee only propose expending that which is necessary to continue a full supply of water, levelling and regulating grounds north and south of Reservoir, and laying such pipes of conduit as the income will justify.

Upon examination of the account of income arising from the sale of Schuylkill water, for the year 1838, it will be perceived that the balance of $2230 62, due and payable by the Township of Moyamensing on the 1st day of June last, has not yet been paid: the Watering Committee have notified the Commissioners of the Township, that unless the same shall be paid to the City Treasurer, on or before the 26th instant, that legal measures will be taken to obtain it, and the provisions of the agreement enforced.

The twenty-inch main mentioned in the last Report, has been laid in Broad street, from Chestnut to Cedar street. The pipes formerly put down in the intersecting streets (which were supplied with water from other sources) have been attached, which has given a more regular supply of water to the City and adjoining Districts; the length of the new main is 2700 feet; 9103 feet of pipes of 3, 4, 6, 10 and 12 inches diameter have also been placed in different streets; making the distance of pipes laid this year 11,803 feet, to which add those laid in the City in former years, makes the total 326,128 feet, upwards of 61 6-8 miles. These, with the pipes laid by the Districts, 44 $\frac{2}{3}$ miles, make the whole quantity 106 $\frac{2}{3}$ miles, extending into the District of Southwark from the City line about 5000 feet; into the Districts of the Northern Liberties and Kensington about 7000 feet.

The Fountain ordered by Councils to be placed in the Franklin Square, in August, 1836, has been finished with plain jets. The marble basin and other parts of this structure is designed to admit of a statue of Franklin and other ornaments, whenever Councils may deem it expedient to make appropriations for that purpose; the sum appropriated for the fountain was 5000 dollars. An iron railing, which at first was not contemplated, but found necessary to protect the work, was put up, causing an excess in this item of $379 64.

At Fair Mount, the northern and eastern banks of the Reservoirs are finished. Several hundred trees have been planted around them, and in the enclosures on Fair Mount and Coates street.

The Dam has been strengthened by additional backing with rubble stone, and a new ice-breaker built at the guard pier on the west side of Schuylkill. The necessary repairs have been done to the mill buildings, and it is believed that the Works are now in such condition as to withstand the severity of winter.

An early and unusual drought commenced in June last, which continued until the 10th of September, during which time the river became very low, and on the 2d of September had fallen so as to leave the top combing of the Dam entirely dry; after the destruction of the Fair Mount Bridge by fire, which happened on the night of the 1st of September, it was used as a common foot passage, until the water rose again; during the drought, the increased consumption of water in the City and Districts required the pumps frequently to be worked upwards of twenty hours in the day. Had the water in the pool fallen a few inches lower, it would have become necessary to alter the gates, so as to admit of working the water-wheels undershot. This circumstance is mentioned, in order to show the necessity of preventing if possible any interference with the water in the pool at Fair Mount, for objects not embraced in the special contracts made with the Schuylkill Navigation Company.

From the 1st of January, to the 1st of April,

the average daily supply of water was	2,628,428	gallons,
From April 1st, to July 1st, - -	3,942,642	"
From July 1st, to October 1st, - -	5,151,720	"
From October 1st, to December 31st, -	3,679,800	"
Being an average, for the year, of 3,850,647 gallons; and an excess of 394,264 gallons, per day, over the supply for 1837.

The present Water Works were put into operation in the year 1822, at which time it was calculated that the wood work of the water-wheels, breastwork, gates to the mills, and forebay, would decay in about fourteen years. They have been in use sixteen years. With occasional repairs they probably will last three or four years longer, when a general renewal must take place.

JOHN PRICE WETHERILL,

Chairman pro. tem. of Watering Committee.

FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES of the PHILADELPHIA GAS WORKS.

January 25, 1839.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia :

The Trustees of the Philadelphia Gas Works, in obedience to the provisions of the fourth section of the Ordinance for the construction and management of the Works, passed on the twenty-first day of March, A. D., 1835, respectfully present the following account of their proceedings, and of their receipts and disbursements, during the past year.

The very full exposition of the objects and the plans of the Trustees, contained in their last Annual Report, together with the detailed account of their proceedings up to the time which it embraced, render any thing further than a brief statement of the transactions of the last year, unnecessary at the present time.

In that Report it was particularly mentioned, that in order to meet the anticipated demand for gas, an augmentation of the capacity of the works and a very great extension of the main pipes for distribution, would be required. These additions, especially in the number of Retorts and Purifiers, and the great Mains along Ashton and Spruce streets, with a large amount of pipes of smaller sizes, have been completed to the satisfaction of the Trustees; and it affords them pleasure to state that the demand for the products of the Works, has more than fulfilled their anticipations. In proof of this it may be observed, that the number of consumers has more than doubled within the last year, while the quantity of gas made and sold, has been in a corresponding ratio.

The Works are now competent to the manufacture of two hundred thousand cubic feet daily, while the present daily consumption averages about one hundred and fifty thousand feet.

The annexed tabular statement, contains a succinct view of this department of the Works, and indicates the increase during the whole year and in the several months.

The Register's Accounts show the following statement of the receipts and disbursements during the year, and the amount expended in each department; from which it will be perceived that while comparatively little has been expended on the Works, a very large amount has been paid for the manufacture of gas and pipes for its distribution.

APPENDIX, No. XXII.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia :

The Building Committee of the Girard College for Orphans, respectfully

REPORT:

That agreeably to the directions of Councils contained in the Resolution passed March 29th, 1838, requiring them to use all diligence in carrying on the works at the College; they have, during the last season, progressed as fast as was consistent with the durability of the structure.

All the columns for the flank colonnades have been commenced, and several of them are considerably advanced; the marble work of the cell of the building, and the arches of the third story rooms, are finished.

The whole building is covered with a temporary roof, and the furnaces for drying the walls are in operation; the experience of the last winter having confirmed their utility.

The two eastern out-buildings are as nearly completed as they can be, until Councils decide upon the period of their occupancy.

The amount expended during the past year has been $229,937, and there are remaining on hand materials worth $125,000, which will enable the committee to commence operations early in the spring.

The balance of appropriations unexpended at this time is about $27,000.

The manner of supplying the College with water has been a subject of serious consideration with the Committee, and they have now the satisfaction to state that an arrangement has been made with the Watering Committee for a supply, upon a plan recommended by the architect, which is not only perfectly practicable, but involves the least possible expense, and which will be at the same time a source of income to the city. For the plan itself, the Committee refer more particularly to the report of the architect, and the resolution passed by the Watering Committee, both of which accompany this Report.

The propriety of commencing the wall around the College having engaged the attention of the Committee, it became a question whether the whole of the land appropriated for the College must be enclosed by a wall of the character designated in the Will, or whether it would be sufficient to enclose only so much of it as would be necessary for the buildings. On a question of so much importance the Committee did not think themselves competent to decide, but agreed to refer the matter to John Sergeant, Esq., for a legal opinion.

That opinion has been received, and accompanies this Report.

The Architect in his report has suggested the propriety of extending the work so as to embrace the wall necessary to enclose the College grounds, the two western out-buildings, and the arrangements for supplying the establishment with water. The Committee are, however, of opinion, that it would be advisable to postpone the commencement of the wall, as well as the two western out-buildings, for another year, the better to enable them to hasten the completion of the main building. They therefore recommend the appropriation of three hundred thousand dollars for the ensuing year, which, with the balance on hand, will enable the Committee to carry on the work proposed.

The Architect having given, in the report alluded to, a full and lucid description of the progress of the work during the last year, the Committee would respectfully refer Councils to that document for a detailed account of their operations.

The complete success that has attended the arching of the main building, is a subject to which the Committee refer with the greatest satisfaction. The small rise to which the first and second stories of these arches were necessarily restricted, compared with the greatness of their span, rendered it indispensable to use the utmost care and skill in their construction. It is therefore peculiarly gratifying to know that the lateral pressure of these arches has been so completely counteracted, and the masonry so firmly put together, that not even the ordinary contraction arising from the nature of the materials is anywhere perceptible since the removal of the supports upon which they were constructed.

These arches will doubtless endure uninjured by time to the latest generations, to perpetuate the memory of the great philanthropist, to whose munificence we are indebted for this magnificent structure. As regards the arches of the third story, the Committee are gratified to say, that while they present the same excellence of workmanship and materials as those below, their form is beautiful in the highest degree. The proportions of the domes that cover these ample rooms cannot fail to impress the spectator with the most agreeable sensations, and there is perhaps nowhere to be found a suite of apartments of equal magnitude and elegance.

The Committee cannot refrain from expressing their approbation of the manner in which the work has been conducted under the direction of the architect, and executed by the workmen. The most difficult designs in the art of architectural sculpture have not only been accomplished by native skill, but a boldness of execution and a delicacy of finish have been imparted to them, which leaves them without a superior in any corresponding works in our country.

All of which is submitted by the Committee.

Committee.

An Ordinance making an appropriation for the building of the Girard College for Orphans.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Citizens of Philadelphia, in Select and Common Councils assembled, That the sum of three hundred thousand dollars be, and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended in constructing the Girard College for Orphans during the present year.

Sec. 2. Be it ordained, &c. That for the purpose of supplying the said appropriation, the Mayor of the city be, and he is hereby authorized under the direction of the Commissioners of the Girard Estates, to sell at such times as they may direct, such stocks or loans now constituting a part of the fund set apart for constructing and maintaining the said College as may be found necessary.

To the Building Committee of Girard College for Orphans:

GENTLEMEN—

In conformity with your resolution of the 5th inst., I have the honour to lay before you the following Report on the progress of the work during the past year.

The arches over the rooms in the third story of the main building are entirely finished,—the marble work of the cell is completed,—the columns and architraves of the south vestibule to the third story rooms are erected and prepared to receive the vaulting to support the roof,—and those of the north vestibule are so far advanced as to admit of their being completed during the winter. The centres are all prepared for these vestibules, so that the arches may be constructed early in the ensuing season.

The centres, or supports upon which the third story arches were formed have been removed,—those in the second story are freed from the brickwork, and the workmen are now engaged in taking them out,—and those in the first story were removed in the early part of the season:—we have therefore the satisfaction to know that all the large arches are completed, and are now standing independent of the supports upon which they were constructed, without having produced the slightest fracture or settling in any part of the building. I am induced to make these remarks from the fact that the great length of the chord of the arches in the first and second stories, compared with their small versed sine led many to doubt the possibility of making them permanent.—Although such apprehensions were most certainly never indulged by those who are conversant with the theory of arches, it still becomes necessary for me to lay the result before you, as the subject is one that was freely discussed in the early part of the work.

It will also be proper for me here to advert to the mechanical construction of these arches;—they are all composed of hard burnt paving bricks, and mortar made of lime, hydraulic cement, and sharp sand:—the bricks were all dipped in water before they were laid, and the mortar was used in very small quantities, few of the joints being more than one-eighth of an inch in thickness:—the keys are all formed of marble, and were fitted to their places by the stone cutters after the completion of the brickwork; these keys are four inches wide at the bottom and six inches at the top.—Notwithstanding the versed sine of these arches is but eight feet and a half, while they each cover a room of fifty feet square and contain 117,000 bricks, the weight of which is nearly three hundred tons, there was no sinking at the crown of any of them when the centres were removed beyond one-eighth of an inch.—It was naturally expected that the compressibility of the materials would cause considerable depression, but the excellence of the workmanship has produced an unusual firmness in the work, and which reflects great credit upon the superintendent under whose directions it was executed.

The arches over the rooms in the third story being unrestricted as to height, I have given them the form of pendentive domes with semicircular sections:—these arches are constructed with the same degree of care and accuracy as those in the lower stories, and their appearance since the centres have been removed fully realizes our expectations.

All the columns on both the flanks have been commenced,—four on the eastern side have been raised to their destined height,—one is ready to receive the capital, and three have their architraves upon them,—nearly all the marble required for the eastern colonnade is wrought, and the whole will be completed during the winter, so as to be ready to be put together as soon as the spring opens.

A sufficient number of column blocks are prepared to complete seventeen columns, including what are already finished: twelve capitals are entirely completed and six more are in progress of execution, most of which require very little work to finish them.

There are nineteen architraves on the ground for the exterior portico, besides the two that are placed in their destined situation.

The interior of the out-buildings on the east of the College have been as nearly completed as may be desirable until Councils decide upon the time for opening the Institution. These buildings are so far advanced as to admit of being prepared for occupancy at two or three weeks' notice.

The quantity of marble delivered during the past year amounts to 35,027 cubic feet.

There are now remaining on the ground, exclusive of the wrought and unwrought materials for the exterior porticoes before alluded to, about sixteen hundred feet of finished work, three thousand and forty feet of sawed material, and seventeen hundred cubic feet of marble in the rough.

The number of bricks left on hand from the previous year amounted to one hundred and sixty-two thousand; since which we have purchased two millions three thousand one hundred and fifty, making two millions one hundred and sixty-five thousand one hundred and fifty; of which two millions seventy-five thousand one hundred and fifty have been used in the building, leaving ninety thousand now on the ground.

It is due to the superintendents of all the mechanical branches to say, that the execution of every part of the work continues to merit the highest commendation;—the contracts have been faithfully performed, and nothing has occurred to mar the harmony that has always prevailed on the work, or to impede its progress in the slightest degree.

The expenditures from December 31st, 1837, to December 31st, 1838, amount to 229,937 dollars.

The wrought and unwrought materials now on the ground, and which have not yet been used in the building are worth about 125,000 dollars, all of which will be available for the work of the ensuing season.

We have again covered the main building with a temporary roof, and have taken great care to prevent injury from frost;—the furnaces have also been put into operation, by means of which every room in the building is kept continually warm.

The precautions that have been used to prevent the arches from being saturated by rain during the execution of the work, and which were spoken of more fully in my last annual Report; together with the introduction of heated air by means of the temporary furnaces have had the effect already to render the walls of the first and second stories perfectly dry:—we may therefore proceed to finish these rooms without delay, as no difficulty whatever need be apprehended from dampness.

The main building having advanced so far towards completion, and the two eastern out-buildings being virtually finished, I would respectfully suggest the propriety of extending the work at an early day, so as to embrace all the principal objects that will require to be completed previous to the full organization of the College.—The most important of these are the two western out-buildings,—the wall to enclose the College grounds, with the lodges and gates of entrance, and the arrangements for supplying the establishment with water; which, according to our present plan, will include a laundry, drying room, ironing rooms, &c.

As regards the western out-buildings, their foundations may be laid, and the walls carried up as high as the top of the basement in the next season, without interfering at all with the rest of the work;—the quantity of marble they will require will be small, and that will be but plain ashlar. These buildings will require three years to complete them. I therefore think it important to commence them at once; the expense of progressing as far with them as I have proposed will not exceed 20,000 dollars.

The wall to enclose the grounds, together with the lodges and gates of entrance, constitute another of the subjects I have taken the liberty to suggest for your consideration. It having been decided that the Will of Mr. Girard can only be carried out by enclosing the whole forty-five acres, it will become necessary to give early attention to the subject.—The whole circuit of the ground is 7200 feet, and (in the words of Mr. Girard) it must “be enclosed with a solid wall at least four- teen inches thick and ten feet high, capped with marble and guarded with irons on the top;" in order therefore to conform strictly with these injunctions, and at the same time to make the wall permanent and durable, I propose to lay a course of solid granite about one foot and a half in height, on a substantial foundation of rubble stone, so as to rise about a foot above the surrounding streets; on this granite base I would construct a brick wall of fourteen inches in thickness, with buttresses twelve feet apart, projecting nine inches at the bottom, and battering to four inches at the top;—on the inside I would build spur piers opposite the buttresses, and crown the whole with a massy marble capping surmounted with irons, as directed by Mr. Girard.

The cost of constructing the wall as I have here suggested, will be 125,000 dollars, exclusive of the gates and lodges, which will cost about 20,000 dollars more.

It would unquestionably be more in harmony with the rest of the architecture to face this wall with marble; the additional expense of which, for the outside alone, would amount to 100,000 dollars;—if however you should decide to execute this part of the work of bricks, we must depend upon paint for subduing such parts of it as most interfere with the design.

In view of the great extent of this wall, I think it important to make an early beginning; I would accordingly recommend that the granite be put under contract immediately, and that arrangements be made to accomplish about one-fifth of the work during the ensuing season:—about 25,000 dollars will therefore be required for this part of the work should you decide to go on with it as I have here suggested.

The plan for supplying the College with water is also one of the subjects to which I have ventured to invite your attention. I had the honour to lay before you in May last a design for the attainment of this object, by means of the water power at Fair Mount, and which I have the satisfaction to say, has been fully approved by the Watering Committee of the City Councils.

Inasmuch as it becomes my duty to furnish you with an estimate of the cost of this part of the work, it will be proper for me here to advert briefly to the plan.

The surface of the ground at the base of the main building being 26 feet above the surface of the water in the reservoirs at Fair Mount, I found it necessary in making the plan to include a reservoir to be placed on the College land of sufficient height to furnish all the buildings connected with the establishment with a full supply of water under a good head. I have therefore designed a building of three stories in height to be placed on the highest part of the ground west of Schuylkill Front street;—the first and second stories of this building will comprise the laundry, drying room, ironing rooms, &c., and the third story will contain the reservoir.

I then propose to attach a small forcing pump to the northern wheel of the city water works, and connect it by means of iron pipes with the reservoir at the College;—the power thus obtained will be no detriment whatever to the city works, and will doubtless be ample for all the purposes of the College.

The whole cost of this arrangement, including the building for the reservoirs, &c., at the College, will not exceed 35,000 dollars, and it should be remembered, that the only expense will be the first cost of the fixtures, as no additional superintendence will be required at Fair Mount, in consequence of an additional pump for the College.

Should you decide to execute this plan, about 15,000 dollars will be required during the ensuing season to prosecute the work.

As there are no means at present for obtaining water, other than those afforded by ordinary wells, it is desirable that arrangements be made forthwith for commencing so important an apurtenance to the establishment.

As regards the amount of work that may be done on the main building in the course of the coming season, I would respectfully say, that the flank porticoes may both be completed, all the marble tiles for the roof may be wrought, and the brickwork of the cell prepared to receive them, the finishing of the first and second stories may be progressing, and the marble tiles for the floors, the stairways and other matters connected with the inside finish may be put in hands immediately.

To proceed thus rapidly with the main building, about 300,000 dollars will be required for this part of the work alone during the season.

Should you therefore decide to forward the whole establishment towards completion with as much expedition as the present state of the works, and the facilities we now have for obtaining materials will admit, the sum of 372,000 dollars will be required to prosecute the work during the present year, as follows:—

For the two western out-buildings,	-	-	-	$20,000
For the wall around the premises,	-	-	-	25,000
For carrying the proposed plan for obtaining water into operation,	-	-	-	15,000
For the main building,	-	-	-	300,000
Carried forward,				<hr/> $360,000

Brought forward,	-	-	-	-	$360,000
And for completing the two eastern out-buildings, and paying for what yet remains due upon them,					12,000
Making as before stated,	-	-	-	-	$372,000

In conclusion, I will only observe that there will be no difficulty in accomplishing all that I have mentioned before the close of the present year; provided we are informed of your decision at an early day, so as to enable us to make the necessary arrangements for materials previous to the opening of the season.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

With great respect,

Your obedient servant,

THOMAS U. WALTER, Architect.

Girard College, Jan. 21, 1839.

TO JAMES HUTCHINSON, Esq.,

Chairman of the Building Committee of the Girard College for Orphans.

Opinion of John Sergeant, Esq. on the subject of the wall to enclose the College grounds.

My opinion has been asked by the Building Committee of the Girard College for Orphans, whether, under the Will of Mr. Girard, the whole of the land appropriated for the College must be enclosed by a wall of the character designated in the Will, or whether it will be sufficient to enclose only so much of it as may be necessary for the buildings now in progress.

This question is not altogether new to me. In the general examination of the Will, at an early day, the inquiry now made was of course anticipated, as one which at some time it would be necessary to decide. That time having arrived, and my opinion being asked, I have deliberately and carefully considered the question, and come to a conclusion. I will not say that it is against my wishes; for it is not my province to have such wishes; but I may truly say that I am sensible of the inconvenience and expense the construction of the Will, which appears to me unavoidable, may lead to, and have not adopted it but upon the plainest and most cogent grounds. So, at least, they seem to me.

The Will itself must be our guide. We must follow it implicitly, whatever may be our views of the wisdom of its provisions or of any of them. Of these things, Mr. Girard was himself the exclusive judge. If we can ascertain his intention, by the legal methods of interpretation, that intention becomes a law to us, by which we must be governed. With this view of the nature of the inquiry, I will proceed to examine the Will.

There are two clauses in the Will which have a bearing upon the question, and then follows the codicil of the 20th June, 1831, upon which the answer finally depends. The first of these clauses is in the 20th section, and in page nineteen of the printed copy before me. After devoting the square of ground between High and Chesnut streets, and Eleventh and Twelfth streets, for the purposes of the College, and giving very minute directions as to the principal building, the testator proceeds as follows: "The entire square, formed by High and Chesnut streets, and Eleventh and Twelfth streets, shall be enclosed with a solid wall, at least fourteen inches thick and ten feet high, capped with marble and guarded with irons on the top, so as to prevent persons from getting over." This is very plain. It is made still plainer, and the anxiety of Mr. Girard more distinctly manifested by the clause next to be referred to, that his motives should not be misunderstood or disregarded. It is in the same section, page 20, and is as follows: "The messuages now erected on the south-east corner of High and Twelfth streets, and on Twelfth street, to be taken down and removed as soon as the College and out-buildings shall have been erected, so that the establishment may be rendered secure and private." There can be no doubt, therefore, that the whole of the lot first appropriated was to be enclosed by a wall of the description specified by the testator, and that the object was to render the establishment secure and private. It was a part, and in the estimation of the testator, an essential part, of his improvements and arrangements for the Orphan establishment, that the whole of the grounds should be enclosed by such a wall—just as essential in his view as the College itself. For, there is still another provision in the Will, which would perhaps be inefficacious without it. I mean that which is expressed in the following language, page 24, to-wit: "Nor shall any such person ever be admitted for any purpose, or as a visiter, within the premises appropriated to the purposes of the said College."

Such being the Will, the codicil recites the purchase of the land now built upon, being forty-five acres and a fraction, and then proceeds: "Now I declare it to be my intention, and I direct that the Orphan establishment, provided for in my said Will, instead of being built as therein directed upon my square of ground between High and Chesnut and Eleventh and Twelfth streets, in the city of Philadelphia, shall be built upon the estate so purchased from Mr. W. Parker; and I hereby devote the said estate to that purpose exclusively, in the same manner as I had devoted the said square, hereby directing that all the improvements and arrangements for the said Orphan establishment, prescribed by my said Will as to said square, shall be made and executed upon the said estate, just as if I had in my Will devoted the said estate to said purpose." There is no ambiguity here. The testator meant there should be none, and has been even redundant in guarding against it, as the underscored words will show. The estate is put in place of the square. The estate is devoted, exclusively, in the same manner as he had devoted the square. All the improvements and arrangements prescribed by the Will as to the square, are to be made upon the estate, just as if the estate had been in the Will devoted to the purpose. The estate is thus put for the square, and to be treated in all respects as the square was directed to be. The square was to be surrounded by a wall. The estate is therefore to be surrounded by a wall. The wall was one of the improvements and arrangements for the square, and a very material one. It is therefore to be made and executed upon the estate. So the codicil says, expressly. The only question is whether it is practicable. There can be no doubt that it is practicable. The wall will be of much greater extent, and will cost more money. The testator was not ignorant that such would be the result, and if, with full knowledge, he has chosen to encounter it, no one can say to the contrary.

I am, therefore, of opinion that the whole estate must be surrounded by a wall, as prescribed in the Will.

JOHN SERGEANT.

Resolution of the Watering Committee of the City Councils on the subject of a supply of water for the College.

*Office of the Watering Committee, }
City Hall, Jan. 25, 1839. }*

Extract from the Minutes of the Watering Committee of the 24th inst.:

“ Resolved, That the Building Committee of the Girard College be informed, that the Watering Committee will recommend to Councils the propriety of supplying the Girard College with the Schuylkill water, from the works at Fair Mount, by means of a forcing pump attached to the shaft of a wheel, to be erected hereafter. The cost of said pump, iron pipes, and the laying of the same to be paid out of the income of the Girard Estates. The water to be furnished by agreement, conditioned by the provisions governing the contract, supplying the western district of Spring Garden with the Schuylkill water. The water rent to be assessed by the city as early as the College shall require its supply.”

SAMUEL W. RUSH, Register.

APPENDIX, No. XXIII.

The Committee on Public Highways, to whom was directed a resolution, passed January 3d, requiring them to report the amount of materials remaining unsold from the Rail Road in High, Third, and Dock streets, giving the quantity of iron castings in tons and the number of wooden sills, with the probable value of each, together with their opinion of the time when sales can be made to advantage, and when the money may be expected to reach the City Treasury, respectfully

REPORT:

That in compliance with the directions of Councils, they herewith present an estimate of the amount of materials unsold, with the probable value thereof, as follows, viz:

370 tons of iron worth $35 per ton,	$12,950 00
2600 locust sills @ 50 cents each,	1,300 00
	$14,250 00

The iron is supposed to be worth at this time $35 per ton; but whether it should be disposed of immediately, or whether it would be more advantageous to the interests of the city to await the probable rise in the article, the Committee are not prepared to say, but leave it to the better judgment of Councils to direct when and how sales shall be effected.

With reference to the locust sills, the Committee are of the opinion that the whole may be disposed of during the coming season at private sale for the price estimated above.

APPENDIX, No. XXIV.

The Committee on Public Highways, to whom a resolution, passed on the 1st of March last, was referred as follows:

Resolved, That the Committee on Public Highways be authorized to have prepared, the details of a plan for numbering houses in accordance with the principle proposed by the Surveyors of the City and Districts of Northern Liberties and Spring Garden, in their report made to said Committee under date of the 14th of February, 1838,

REPORT

That agreeably to which, they herewith present the plan with the details as furnished by S. Hains, Esq. in connexion with the Surveyors of the Districts of the Northern Liberties and Spring Garden, as follows:

“The plan is based upon the principle of latitude and longitude, counting in both directions from High street and Broad street.

All the Streets, Lanes, and Alleys to be designated thus: North Broad street, South Broad street, East High street, West High street, &c.

Allow five or six houses or numbers to every hundred feet, and let the same numbers be found opposite each other between all the principal streets north and south, and east and west, that is the same numbers shall be found, for instance, between Tenth and Eleventh streets on Cedar, High, or Vine streets; and all other Streets or Alleys running in the same direction as High street, the same principle to be applied to all the Streets and Alleys whether they extend to Broad and High street or not.

The letters N., S., E., W., to be affixed to the direction boards at the corners of all the Streets and Alleys, and also the number assigned by this arrangement to the corner where such board is to be affixed.

This plan will enable any part of the City or Districts to have their appropriate numbers without reference to the state of the improvements in the neighbourhood, and will also enable any one by a simple inspection of a plan of the city to know exactly in what square, and in what part of it any particular number is to be found.”

The foregoing plan having met the unanimous approbation of the Committee, they very respectfully offer the following resolution to Councils for their adoption.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, Feb. 2, 1839.

SIR—

It gives me pleasure to acknowledge the receipt of "Tanner's latest plan of the City of Philadelphia." In compliance with the Resolution adopted by the Common Council, I have caused the same to be placed in the Executive Chamber.

Be so kind as to present my thanks to the gentlemen composing the Council, for the opportunity they have so generously afforded many of the citizens of our great and patriotic State, of inspecting a most beautifully executed plan of one of the most beautiful and prosperous cities in the union.

It shall give me pride and pleasure, at all times, officially and individually, to direct my attention to the advancement of the interests of our great commercial metropolis.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

DAVID R. PORTER.

TO A. FERGUSON, ESQ.

Chairman of Committee on Finance.

APPENDIX, No. XXVIII.

To the Select and Common Councils:

The Committee of Finance, in discharge of the duties imposed upon them by existing ordinances, respectfully submit their annual report, touching the financial condition of the City Treasury. The following statement is submitted in order that Councils may see the extent of the deficiency that has arisen in the means provided for the service of the year 1838, in relation to which it may be proper here to remark that it has been produced almost entirely by a deviation by Councils from the course recommended by the Committee in former reports, in regard to granting appropriations after the general bill on that subject has been passed. Had no after appropriations been granted during the past year, the Committee would have been spared the necessity of reporting any deficiency. After a careful examination, the Committee find the following claims upon the corporation, arising from the operations of the year 1838, which must be provided for before any new expenditures are sanctioned.

Balance of unexpended appropriations,	$102,102 23
Balance due the Sinking Fund,	68,327 56
Balance due Scott's legacy fund,	393 84
	$170,823 63

To meet which there is at the disposal of the Corporation as follows:

Cash in Bank United States,	$77,085 33
Balance of unsold loans,	45,900 00
Outstanding taxes estimated to yield	24,000 00
	<hr/>
Leaving a deficiency to be provided for of	$146,985 33
	$23,838 30

The Committee having examined the estimates of the several standing Committees for the year 1839, find them to be as follows:

Watering Committee,	$ 28,000 00
Committee on Finance,	200,410 00
Committee on Police,	114,260 00
Committee on Public Highways.	50,000 00

Amount required to redeem one per cent. loan, yet outstanding,	10,201 40
	<hr/>
Making a total of	$537,909 70

To meet which the Committee estimate the income of the Corporation for the year 1839, exclusive of taxes, to be as follows:

Water Rents,	$116,000 00
Market Rents,	32,000 00
Rents of City Property,	24,000 00
Revenue from Tobacco Warehouse,	8,000 00
Contingent Moneys,	10,000 00
Materials from old Rail Road, esti- mated to yield,	12,000 00	$202,000 00
		<hr/>
Leaving the sum of		$335,909 70

To meet this deficiency in part, the Committee propose to draw from the residuary income of the Girard Estates the sum of 40,000 00

Leaving a deficiency to be provided for of $295,909 70 should all the sums estimated by the several Standing Committees be granted by Councils.

In regard to this deficiency, the Committee are of opinion that the only proper mode of raising means for its supply is by a resort to taxation. The continuation of the statement will show not only the rate imposed last year, together with the amount produced, but will also show the addition that will be required to bring into the City Treasury a sum sufficient to supply the authorized demands that are likely to be made upon it during the present year. The rate of taxation for the year 1838 was 85 cents on the $100, which, with a personal tax of $6000, it is estimated will produce clear of commissions and allowances the sum of $228,000 00

Which deducted from the foregoing deficiency, leaves a balance of 67,909 70

Brought forward, - - -	$67,909 70
To meet which the Committee propose to add to the rates of last year 30 cents on every one hun- dred dollars, which will yield clear of charges, about	79,000 00
Leaving a surplus of	<hr/> $11,090 30

The Committee are of opinion that a fund should always be provided over and above the regular estimates for the year sufficiently large to meet, without additional legislation, any and all exigencies that may be likely to arise; and although they consider the amount as shown in the foregoing statement quite too small in the ordinary course of things, yet they cannot recommend any further increase of taxation, already sufficiently burthensome, but they do most earnestly call upon Councils to scrutinize closely the estimated expenditures of the Committees for the year, and to strike from the appropriation bill all items not required by the most positive necessity. Before closing their report, the Committee deem it proper to recur to the course pursued for many years past by their predecessors, in resorting to permanent loans to meet in part the regular annual expenses of the city government. This course, if persisted in, cannot, in their opinion, fail to lead to ultimate and irretrievable bankruptcy, and should by all means be avoided for the future. They are aware of the fact that some of their fellow-members have heretofore advocated it in order to avoid an increase of taxation, at all times odious, but they do hope and trust that after proper reflection, Councils will see the utter fallacy of the course, and at once abandon it. The Committee are aware that by doing so, heavy additional burthens must be imposed upon their fellow-citizens by an increase of taxes; but however oppressive it may seem to be, yet the only and true plan to produce relief is to lessen at once the expenses of the city government, and by the exercise of a rigid economy in future so manage our affairs as to live within our income. They cannot, in their opinion, too forcibly dwell upon the fact, that by a resort to loans, they are not only deceiving their fellow-citizens, but are in reality adding to their burthens by an addition of the interest upon such loans to the regular expenses, which, being a claim of a character more sacred than all others, must be paid before the labourer, the policeman, or any other public creditor can receive his wages or his pay. In conclusion, the Committee give it as their opinion that any further resort to loans to meet the annual expenses of the city, would be both unwise and impolitic; and they respectfully recommend that all deficiencies, after exhausting the regular income of the Corporation, be met at once by a resort to taxation as well for the present as for the future.

APPENDIX, No. XXXI.

The Police Committee to whom was referred the petitions of the Silent Watchmen, accompanied by one of like import from citizens, praying that their pay be increased; likewise a petition from Jonathan Riter, praying that his wages as Market Watchman be increased, and the petition from sundry citizens recommending that relief be extended to Christian Anderson, a City Watchman, beg leave to

REPORT:

The above petitions have been severally considered, and your Committee deem it inexpedient to grant the prayer of the petitioners, or to extend the relief asked for to Christian Anderson.

In relation to the resolution referred to them as to the expediency of appointing additional policemen on the Delaware front, your Committee deem it inexpedient, but are of opinion that the evil will be rectified, it being the intention of the Mayor to cause some of the police to be upon the wharves, which no doubt will correct the abuses.

Your Committee beg leave to offer the following Resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the above Petitions and Resolution.

APPENDIX, No. XXXIV.

To the Select and Common Councils:

In reply to the Resolution passed at the last meeting of Councils, requiring information as to the time, and amount of money necessary to complete the College and appurtenances, the Building Committee respectfully report the following estimate, believing it to be as near the truth as it is possible to arrive at in the present stage of the works.

It will require five years, including the present, to complete the works, agreeably to the plan adopted and now in progress.

The amount of money necessary to carry on and complete the same, will be one million and ninety-seven thousand dollars, divided as follows:

For the Main building,	-	-	-	$850,000
“ two western out-buildings,	-	-	-	155,000
“ wall around the premises,	-	-	-	125,000
“ gates and entrance lodges,	-	-	-	20,000
“ supplying the establishment with water,	-	-	-	35,000
“ completing the eastern out-buildings,	-	-	-	12,000
“ shops, arrangements in exercising yard, and other out-houses,	-	-	-	5,000
“ laying out the grounds,	-	-	-	10,000
“ incidental expenses,	-	-	-	10,000
				<hr/>
				$1,222,000
From which deduct amount of work, and mate- rials on hand,	-	-	-	125,000
				$1,097,000

Of the above amount, the sums necessary for each year will probably be as follows:

For 1839,	-	-	-	-	$300,000
For 1840,	-	-	-	-	260,000
For 1841,	-	-	-	-	200,000
For 1842,	-	-	-	-	175,000
For 1843,	-	-	-	-	162,000
					<hr/>
Making,					$1,097,000

The Committee are unable to present any estimate of the expenses necessary in furnishing the establishment, as that will depend upon circumstances connected with the plan of education hereafter to be adopted.

APPENDIX, No. XXXV.

The Committee appointed to inquire into the expediency of changing the names of the streets west of Broad street, having the word Schuylkill prefixed to them, respectfully

REPORT:

That they have had this subject under consideration, and given it all the attention which its importance demands; and having obtained the views of their fellow citizens in relation to this matter, particularly the residents of and property holders in that part of the city likely to be affected by the contemplated change of names, feel confidence in saying, that a deviation from the present arrangement would be productive of permanent advantage to the public generally. While any inconvenience that may be felt by the few, in consequence of this alteration, would be only of a temporal and partial nature.

The objection to the existing names of the eight streets west of Broad street, is their unnecessary and inconvenient length, owing to their having the word Schuylkill prefixed to them.

The best evidence that the residents of that portion of the city find these names too long to be used with convenience, is to be found in their daily transactions, when speaking of them, the prefix is frequently dropped, and for the sake of brevity, saying Second and Third streets, meaning Schuylkill Second and Schuylkill Third streets.

This is in fact calling a street not by its own name, but by that of another which is two miles distant from that to which they refer. This may be termed conventional, and understood by some, but that it has a tendency to mislead the many. Besides, this careless way of speaking of the western streets, obliges others, who, anxious to be particular in speaking of eastern streets, to prefix the word Delaware.

If this be an evil at this time, will it not increase with growing population?—In the opinion of your Committee, it will.

The consideration then arises, whether it is better to continue the present imperfect arrangement, or to entertain the project of such alterations as may contribute to lessen the embarrassments caused by it.

An objection to the change has been suggested by some individuals otherwise favourable to it, whether titles to property on these streets would in any way be affected by it. Upon this subject the Committee have no hesitation in saying, that no inconvenience will result.

Your Committee, although satisfied as before stated, that the alteration would meet the approbation and contribute to the convenience of our constituents, have deemed it advisable previous to reporting to obtain the opinion of the adjoining districts interested in the change, and to learn their views as to a uniform system of nomenclature, without which any legislation on the part of the City, would be imperfect and unsatisfactory.

Accordingly, the Commissioners of the districts of Spring Garden and Moyamensing were invited to confer by Committee upon the subject.

The former district accepted the invitation, and appointed a Committee for the purpose of conference, who met and expressed to this Committee their individual opinions in favour of a change, with a conviction that it would be favourably entertained by the body they represent.

With the district of Moyamensing no formal intercourse has been had—which is to be regretted, as it prevents this Committee from reporting the views of that body officially upon this subject. But as the interest of that corporation in the question is not great,—and from information obtained from influential individuals in the district, no doubt is entertained of their concurrence.

It is the opinion of this Committee, that if the business of naming the streets was now to commence, that the present arrangement would not be adopted, and that it would have few if any advocates, in which opinion they think Councils will concur; if this position be true, the inference is, that the existing mode is not the best plan that could be devised; but on the contrary, that it is sufficiently defective to justify a change which Councils have power to make.

The Committee therefore offer the following Resolution:

Resolved, That this Committee be instructed to introduce an Ordinance for changing the names of the following streets:—Schuylkill 8th street to 15th street, Schuylkill 7th street to 16th street, Schuylkill 6th street to 17th street, Schuylkill 5th street to 18th street, Schuylkill 4th street to 19th street, Schuylkill 3d street to 20th street, Schuylkill 2d street to 21st street, and Schuylkill Front street to 22d street.

EDW. PENINGTON,
JACOB LEX,
GEO. HANDY,
JAMES ROWLAND,
JOHN WIEGAND,
JAMES CRISSY.

APPENDIX, No. XXXVI.

Resolved, That the Committee on Finance be instructed to pay to William Stevenson, the sum of two hundred dollars, as a compensation for services in relation to city loans during the year 1838.

The Committee on Public Highways directed their Chairman, W. V. Anderson, Esq., in July last, to address a letter to Thomas U. Walter, Esq., Architect of Girard College, who was then in Europe on professional business, and to request him to communicate any information respecting street paving that might come under his notice, in pursuance of which the following correspondence took place between the Chairman and Mr. Walter.

Letter from Mr. Anderson to Mr. Walter.Philadelphia, July 23, 1838.

THOMAS U. WALTER, ESQ.,

London,

DEAR SIR—The Committee on Public Highways have directed me to say, that they would be much pleased to have through you, any information as to recent improvements or experiments in street paving, that in your passage through various places on your present tour through Europe, you may become possessed of, and may consider of advantage to communicate.

It may perhaps be superfluous for me here to refer to any particular objects for your consideration, as you will be entirely aware of such as may be worthy attention, or as it will be of advantage to communicate: but since your departure, paving with asphalte appears to have been brought into further notice. Mr. Strickland who has lately returned from Europe has, I observe, issued proposals for the formation of an Asphalte Company. I was under the impression that this article was principally (or entirely) used for "trottoirs." Is it or not so? and do they make use of it as cement in wood or other pavement?

Other cements I think have also been introduced into Paris; what has been the result?

Should you pass through any place where wood pavement is used, it would be very desirous to have the practice and experience thereto as to durability, &c.

The Committee are much gratified that an opportunity is afforded them to derive information through so good a channel, in the correctness of which they can place the fullest reliance, and have in addition an unbiassed opinion as to what improvements it might be practicable or advisable to adopt by the authorities of the city of Philadelphia.

With sentiments of much respect,

Your obedient servant,

WM. V. ANDERSON,

Chairman of Committee on Public Highways.

Letter of Mr. Walter to the successor of Mr. Anderson.

John Lindsay, Esq., Chairman of Committee on Public Highways:

DEAR SIR,—After my return to London from the continent of Europe, in September last, I received a letter from your predecessor, Wm. V. Anderson, Esq., Chairman of the Committee on Public Highways, requesting me to notice, during my passage through the cities of Europe, any improvements that have been made in street paving, or experiments that may now be making.

Having been so unfortunate as not to receive Mr. Anderson's letter until after I made my tour, and returned to England, I am deprived of the pleasure of communicating more to you than the result of such observations as I was naturally led to make, knowing as I did that the subject of the paving of carriage ways has become a matter of considerable importance in our own country.

All the pavements of which I shall find it necessary to speak, may be classed under the following heads:

First, paving with ordinary boulder stone or pebbles, similar to those used in most American cities.

Second, wooden pavements.

Third, pavements composed of cubical blocks of granite.

Fourth, boulder stone pavements with flagstones for the carriage wheels.

Fifth, Macadamized roads; and Sixth, the various kinds of road-making in which asphaltum has been used.

As regards the paving composed of boulder stones, I have but little to say; it is similar in every respect to the pebble paving of our own country, and is more or less in use in all parts of the world.

The subject of wooden pavements being particularly referred to in the letter I received from Mr. Anderson, I made several inquiries respecting this sort of construction in London; it has not yet, however, been introduced in that city, nor has any kind of wooden road-way whatever come under my notice during the whole of my tour.

A Mr. Stead is now about introducing pavements of this kind in London; this gentleman proposes to steep all the blocks in a solution of corrosive sublimate, according to Kyan's patent, and it is probable that by this method, he may construct a durable pavement.

Mr. Webb, the Secretary of the Seyssel Asphalte Company in London, informed me that he has examined the celebrated wooden pavements in Petersburg, Russia, and found them constructed with great care; he remarks that the blocks are all doweled together, the interstices filled with tar, and a coating of tar put over the whole surface; and with all these precautions they require renewing every four or five years.

The third description of road-ways referred to are those composed of cubical blocks of granite, similar to that at the intersection of Sixth and Chesnut streets.

This kind of pavement is laid in most of the business streets of London and Paris; in the middle of all the principal roads of France to the very confines of the country; and more or less in nearly all the cities I have visited.

Where streets are much used, this description of pavement is decidedly objectionable; the surface of the stones in wearing smooth obtain a slight convexity, which renders it difficult for horses to travel upon them, especially in muddy weather.

Another objection to these roads is their unevenness after they have been some time in use; the chief cause of which is the percolation of water through the interstices between the stones, which produces settling in some places while others remain firm; thus making a surface which is almost as annoying to the traveller as the "corduroy roads" in the unimproved parts of the United States.

The fourth description of paving to which I have alluded is that composed of ordinary bowlders, with lines of flagstones for the carriage wheels to run upon. When this kind of road is well constructed, in countries where the climate is less severe than ours, it makes a durable and beautiful pavement; but even this description of paving in all its perfection, would not stand the frosts of our winters.

The experiment that has been made in Philadelphia in Arch between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, is entirely of too rude a character to convey any idea either of the appearance or the utility of this sort of paving.

The whole city of Milan is paved in this way, and there is little doubt that it is the best paved city in the world. All the streets in Milan have a gradual descent to the middle, under which culverts are formed with openings into them about 40 feet apart; these openings consist simply of three or four holes of one inch wide and ten inches long, pierced through a piece of granite which entirely fills the space between the slabs which the wheels run upon;—these slabs are made of fine close grained granite, wrought perfectly smooth, and the foot-ways are composed of the same material; the spaces between the flags for the wheel tracks, and also between these tracks and the foot-ways, are paved with small bowlders similar to the smallest used by us. An entirely plain surface is thus made across the whole street from house to house without curb-stones, the foot-ways and carriage-ways being only indicated by the difference of the stones.

The difficulties we have experienced from the pebble pavement being cut up on each side of the slabs for the carriage wheels, is here obviated by making the horse path in the lowest part of the street; this gives the vehicle a natural tendency to the centre, and prevents the wheels from running off the flags.

In some parts of Milan the pavement has remained so long uninjured, that the pebbles are worn off to as smooth a surface as the flags; and in all the streets of this great city I have not seen a single broken or uneven place.

I am, however, of opinion, that this pavement, should it even be executed with all the beauty and strength of that in Milan, would not be durable in our climate. No pavement that is not wholly impervious to water will ever withstand the rigors of our winters; and the system of drainage that is there adopted would be of little use to us.

As regards Macadamizing, which is the fifth description of road-making to which I have referred, we have already our own experience. Roads of this kind are very common in England, and are frequently made in the streets of cities: they are composed of smaller stones, and are made with more care than any I have seen in this country; and the peculiarities of the English climate render them less objectionable there, than with us; the winters are less severe than ours; hence they suffer less from frost, and the climate being much more humid, removes in a measure the objection that has here been urged against them as regards dust.

Our own experiments, however, upon Macadamized roads are sufficient to convince us that this kind of road-making can never be introduced with advantage in Philadelphia.

It now only remains for me to say something upon the use of asphaltum for street paving:

This material has been in use in Europe for "trottoirs," or foot pavements, since the year 1827, but its application to the paving of carriage-ways is of very recent date. and I would here observe that it appears to me to be the only material yet discovered, that will ever withstand the severities of our climate.

This substance is calcareous, and has received the name of Asphalte, from its combination with Asphaltum, and other butuminous substances. The best, and in fact the only natural combination of carbonate of lime and bitumen, is found on the eastern side of the Jura mountains, near the town of Seyssel; there are, however, several artificial compositions known by the name of Asphalte, now in use in England and France, and although they are decidedly inferior to the natural material obtained near Seyssel, they will nevertheless, furnish us with interesting examples of asphaltic pavements.

I shall, therefore, refer to works that have been executed of an asphaltum invented by the celebrated French engineer Polonceau, also to those executed of Dezmaurel's asphalte, and to the natural material found near Seyssel.

The Polonceau Company have executed about 80,000 feet of the Paris road to Versailles, Auteuil and Grenelle; a portion of the road to Passey; and several large private court yards in Paris.

Two experiments were made by this Company on one of the streets of Liverpool during my stay in that city. The first consisted in making an ordinary macadamized road, having its surface regulated about one inch below the intended finish of the street; this surface was then covered with asphalte in a semi fluid state, and before the material had time to cool, a layer of finely broken stones was strewed over it and brought to an even surface by means of a large iron roller: another thin coat of asphalte was then put on, and the surface covered with fine gravel stones, well sifted and washed, after which it was again rolled. This unquestionably makes a beautiful road, and there can be no doubt of its durability.

The other experiment to which I alluded, is equally interesting, and can be applied to our streets with ease and economy; it consists simply of picking the dirt out from between the stones in a street which was paved with ordinary pebbles, smearing the interstices between them with coal tar, and then filling the spaces with asphalte so as not entirely to cover the surfaces of the stones: in order to give the pavement a more beautiful appearance, small pieces of broken stone were indented into the asphalte while it remained in a fluid state.

The chief causes of dilapidation in our stone pavements are, the water that gets under them, by which they are soon undermined; and the action of the frost upon the earth on which they are laid. Both these evils may be averted by adopting the plan of filling the interstices between the stones with asphalte; the whole would then present a surface impervious to water; the frost would be prevented from penetrating so deeply into the earth, and the asphalte being somewhat elastic, no evil would be likely to arise from expansion and contraction.

The Dezmaurel asphalte is also an artificial composition, and although it is vastly inferior to the natural material, the works of this Company are still superior to any other roadways that were ever made previous to the application of asphalte to street paving. From some defect however in the composition of this material, it becomes slightly soft on the surface in the summer and emits a bituminous odour, that I never observed in that of either of the other Companies, and it is not unlikely that the frosts of winter may affect its durability.

The Dezmaurel Company have specimens of their work on two of the Boulevards of Paris, at the entrance of the Champs Elisées; at the bridge of Notre Dame, and opposite the Church of St. Roch.

This Company form their carriage-ways of large blocks of asphalte, four or five inches thick, neatly put together with the same material: the surface is smooth, without being slippery, and vehicles pass over it without making the least noise. This plan of paving is decidedly the most perfect of any thing yet invented, and where it is well executed with good materials, it will probably never want replacing.

As regards the works of the Seyssel Company, I will only say, that they alone use the natural asphalte; and from examinations I made in Paris, in Liverpool, and at the Company's works in London, I am fully of opinion that the Seyssel asphalte is the best material ever yet discovered for paving streets in climates that are subject to great changes of temperature. I would therefore respectfully recommend that one square be immediately paved with asphaltic blocks; and that the pebble pavement of another square be consolidated by filling the interstices with asphalte, similar to that which was done by the Polonceau Company at Liverpool.

I am gratified to learn that Mr. Strickland has been appointed engineer of the Asphalte Company of the United States, and had my attention not been officially called to the subject by your honorable Committee, I should most certainly never have ventured an opinion in a matter that is without doubt, far better understood by the accomplished Engineer of the Company. To him I therefore refer you for further information respecting this valuable material for improving our ways.

I am, Dear Sir, with high consideration,
Your obedient servant,

THOS. U. WALTER,
Architect.

APPENDIX, No. XLV.

To the Select and Common Councils:

The Committee on Finance respectfully

REPORT:

That in the discharge of their duties as managers of the Sinking Fund of the City, and in anticipation of the period when a large amount of the city debt has to be met and discharged—they have turned their attention to the subject with a view of accomplishing the redemption of the debt in the most beneficial manner.

The sum to be extinguished consists of three hundred thousand one hundred dollars, of six per cent. stock, and ninety-one thousand nine hundred dollars of five per cent. stock, all redeemable on the first day of January, 1840, and making a total of $392,000. To protect this amount, the corporation now holds in the Sinking Fund the sum of $358,200 of her own loans, redeemable at various periods, as shown in statement A. annexed, between the first day of January, 1840, and the first day of January, 1871, and other securities and balances, amounting to $257,743 97. To render this large amount of our own securities most available, it has occurred to the Committee that the consolidation of it into one sum and distributing its redemption over several remote years and in small sums, would be attended with great advantage, and they submit an Ordinance to carry it into effect.

They propose to consolidate the sum of $355,000 now represented on the books of the corporation, by a number of small certificates, and to make that amount redeemable in the years 1871–1872–1873–1874, in convenient portions which can readily be met by the continued operation of the Sinking Fund as now established. The sale of this latter sum in the form contemplated with the income of the fund for the present year, and the annual appropriations from the city revenues will enable the corporation to meet the coming payments with great ease, and leave an amount of productive stock belonging to the Sinking Fund, equal at the present prices to about $281,043 97, as shown in statement B., to accumulate for the extinguishment of the certificates of city debt, redeemable in 1843-1845 and 1846.

We have deemed it most advisable to enlarge the powers of the officers of the corporation in regard to the form and ultimate redemption of the certificates, and as to the places where the interest will be payable and the principal reimbursed, in order that every facility may be reached for procuring the money on the best terms.

A list, showing the total amount of loans, stocks and balances composing the Sinking Fund of the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens, is herewith submitted, marked C.

Report as follows:

That they have found that the estimate furnished the Committee by the President of the Board of City Commissioners for "Outstanding Bills Unpaid," at the commencement of the current year, and for which an appropriation was made, has fallen far short of the amount actually required for that purpose. They, therefore, respectfully ask Councils to consent to the transfer of a sufficient sum from the other items of their appropriation to the item of "Outstanding Bills Unpaid," to cover the deficiency which may be ascertained to exist therein, and they, therefore, report the following Resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Public Highways be, and they are hereby authorized to transfer to the credit of the item of "Outstanding Bills Unpaid" of Appropriation No. 4, for the year 1839, from the other items of said appropriation, a sum sufficient to cover any deficiency which has or may be found to exist in the amount appropriated for "Outstanding Bills Un-

Commodore Jesse D. Elliott,

DEAR SIR—

I have been directed by the Building Committee of the Girard College for Orphans, to inform you that the Sarco-phagus which you had the kindness to present to the city of Philadelphia, has been duly received.

The Building Committee having been intrusted by the City Councils with the care of your valuable present, are desirous of obtaining from you all the facts connected with its history.

They will be pleased to hear from you as early as will suit your convenience.

Very respectfully,

Your Friend,

JAMES HUTCHINSON,
Chairman.

James Hutchinson, Esq.

Chairman of the Building Committee of }
Girard College for Orphans, Philada. }

Churchtown, Lancaster Co., Aug. 3, 1839.

DEAR SIR—

The letter you did me the favour to address me at Carlisle at the instance of the Building Committee of the Girard College for Orphans, has been received. Absent from Carlisle at my daughter's, where I have been engaged for the last month in assisting to get in a truly bountiful harvest—has interposed and prevented an earlier reply. I regret very much, that my limited knowledge of ancient history should prevent my giving an exact detail of information connected with the origin of the two Sarcophagi I brought home with me in the frigate Constitution, one of which the corporate authorities of Philadelphia, and bearing an inscription, I am pleased to learn has been safely lodged in its permanent place of abode, and which is supposed to have been the tomb of Julia. The second the President of the United States has accepted for the Smithsonian Institute, when established, of her son Alexander Severus; a third still remains at Beyrout, which is marble of the darkest colour without decorations, and doubtless was the tomb of a more subordinate person. If the facts can be reconciled, that they were murdered by the Gauls, and afterwards transported back to Syria; doubtless they had their origin with those personages. While at the island of Malta, a learned professor of a literary institution there, Dean Volante, accompanied by Sir John Stoddart, Chief Justice of the Island, made me a visit on board the Constitution, the result of which gave the Sarcophagi an origin of about two hundred years posterior to the birth of our Saviour. When at Jerusalem I was struck with the antiquity of this species of sepulchre, was drawn to it, substituting a cistern in which I watered my horse and stood without its wall; the want of a road and of the proper apparatus for bringing it to the coast, compelled me to abandon an attempt at removal. Learning accidentally of the discovery made of those at Beyrout, I lost no time in directing their purchase and to be transported and placed on board the Constitution. On my arrival from Damascus, I perceived the mutilation of a portion of each, which was practised in former ages in removing the valuables interred with the deceased. I carefully collected all the fragments which I could find, and which were boxed and landed at Norfolk with the Sarcophagi. Be pleased to preserve in a careful manner such portions as may belong to the other Sarcophagi still at Norfolk; the head of the eagle belonging to the one now at Philadelphia, you will find in the possession of William Rawle, Esq., President of the Common Council. The notice of the Sarcophagi in the London Athenæum, an extract of which accompanies this, and a sight of a previous one to which it refers, may perhaps throw more light upon the subject of these antiquities than may be expected from an unlettered seaman. Amongst the cabinet of coins I have asked to be placed in the College, you will find a portion during the reign of Augustus Cæsar, and bearing the head of his daughter Julia; some of them were picked up among the ruins where once stood the ancient city of Berytus.

Very respectfully,

Your friend and servant,

J. D. ELLIOTT.

*Extract from the London Athenæum, dated May 5th, 1838,

MARBLE SARCOPHAGI FOUND NEAR BEYROUT.

“We learn from the Malta Gazette that Commodore Elliott, of the United States Navy, has collected many curious remains of antiquity during his cruize in the Levant; among the most interesting of which are two marble Sarcophagi, found near Beyrout, on the spot where once stood the city of Berytus. They were discovered sixteen feet under ground while his ship was lying off that coast in August last, by a countryman, who was planting a mulberry tree; and the Commodore lost no time in purchasing them, and had them immediately conveyed on board. Each Sarcophagus is cut out of a solid piece of white marble, and each has its cover in the form of a sloping roof, also in one piece, with the exception of a fracture at the end of a larger one; they are said to be in a state of perfect preservation, for the sculpture on all sides is described as almost as good as when left by the hand of the artist. We are well pleased to have it in our power to add, that Mr. Guiseppe Hyzler, a well known Maltese artist, has, with the permission of Commodore Elliott, taken correct drawings of these interesting antiquities, the more interesting because they were brought away by the Commodore as soon as discovered, and no time elapsed for their mutilation by the country people, nor have they suffered from the destructive hammers of curious travellers. From these drawings exact copies or models might be cut at a trifling expense in Malta stone, and an idea be thus preserved of the beauty of design of two monuments of Roman grandeur which are about to leave the old world forever. The admirable skill of the Maltese in such works is well known; but on this subject we would willingly refer the reader to an interesting letter which appeared in No. 519 of this journal, and only express a hope that the opportunity will not be lost."

APPENDIX, No. LIX.

The Committee on Public Highways respectfully

REPORT:

That they have carefully considered the subject referred to them by the Joint Resolution of Councils, passed August 29, 1839, and have come to the conclusion that it is inexpedient to extend the City Rail Road along Water street or Delaware Avenue from Dock street.

If such extension is contemplated at the expense of the city, it is submitted that the present condition of our finances forbid such an expenditure. The members of the present Councils must be well aware of the necessity of a just economy to prevent embarrassment in our affairs, and that it would be highly improper for us to enter upon any new improvement, leaving the burthen of carrying on and completing it to our successors. If, however, it is proposed, as has been intimated, to construct such a rail road altogether at the expense of those immediately interested, your Committee still conceive that it would be improper for the present Councils to take any step in such a measure, just at the close of the term of their official service, without giving those who might conceive themselves injured, and to the citizens generally, an opportunity to make known their views.

They therefore present the following Resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

The Committee further Report—

A Resolution to repave Sassafras street, from Franklin street to Delaware Eighth street; and an Ordinance relative to the regulation of ascents and descents in Drinker's Alley, according to a plan by Samuel Hains herewith presented, and an Ordinance making an appropriation for Delaware Avenue.

Resolved, That the City Commissioners, under the direction of the Committee on Public Highways be, and they are hereby authorized to cause Sassafras street, from Franklin street to Delaware Eighth street, to be repaved.

An Ordinance relative to the regulation of Drinker's Alley.

Be it ordained and enacted by the Citizens of Philadelphia in Select and Common Councils assembled, That the established regulation of ascents and descents in Drinker's Alley be, and the same is hereby altered so as to lower the same eight inches at the present summit, in conformity to a plan submitted by Samuel Hains, Recording Surveyor.

An Ordinance, making an appropriation for Delaware Avenue.

Be it ordained and enacted by the Citizens of Philadelphia in Select and Common Councils assembled, That the sum of Four Thousand Dollars, out of the income of the fund appropriated under the twenty-second item of the Will of Stephen Girard, for the improvement of the eastern front of the city and Delaware Avenue, be appropriated to the expense of opening Delaware Avenue between Mulberry and Sassafras street, to be paid in the manner that appropriations for Delaware Avenue are directed to be paid in the several Ordinances relating thereto.

All which is respectfully submitted.

To the President and Members of Councils:

GENTLEMEN—

The Watering Committee respectfully report, that they have considered the Resolution of Councils, directing them "to inquire into the expediency of constructing fountains in each angle of Washington Square," and deem the measure as inexpedient.

They submit the enclosed draft of a Resolution for the consideration of Councils:

Resolved, That the Watering Committee be, and they are hereby instructed to confer with the Cincinnati Society, who have charge of the funds collected for erecting a monument to George Washington, and to report to Councils what arrangements can be made on the subject of erecting the monument in connection with a Fountain in Washington Square.

JOHN P. WETHERILL,
Chairman Watering Committee.

APPENDIX, No. LXI.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia :

GENTLEMEN:—

Agreeably to the Resolution, passed April 11th, authorizing the Watering Committee to solicit the services of Henry Campbell, Daniel Groves, Josiah White, and Frederick Erdmann, Esqrs., to make a regular survey, and to examine the actual condition and stability of the Dam at Fair Mount, I am requested by said Committee to present their Report, agreeably to said Resolution.

JOHN P. WETHERILL,
Chairman Watering Committee.

Philadelphia, Sept. 12th, 1839.

REPORT.

To the Watering Committee of the City of Philadelphia :

GENTLEMEN:—

The undersigned, appointed by the Select and Common Councils to examine the Fair Mount Dam, in conjunction with the superintendent of the Fair Mount Water Works, and under the notice of the Watering Committee, beg leave to report:—

That we have made the examinations as minutely as the high stage of water would permit, and find the general condition of the dam to be sound and substantial, except the sheet-planks on the southern slope or roof of the dam, and some of the timbers in its southern face or breast, ranging between mean high-water mark and the come or top of the dam, which exhibit the only decay that can be observed in any part of the work. This portion of the dam, from its frequent exposure to the atmosphere, by reason of a low stage of water, and liability to injury from freshets and floating ice, will of course be first to fail and to require repairs.

The undersigned do not apprehend danger of immediate failure or necessity of repairs, beyond the replacing of planks, removed from the roof of the dam by freshets or otherwise. The great importance of this work to the City and Districts, however, should prevent any risk of failure for the want of timely repairs, and on this account the undersigned recommend that the roof and upper part of the dam, within the triangle above the line a b in the annexed Figure 1, be renewed within the years 1840 or 1841. These repairs can readily be made, at small expense, without disturbing the main body of the dam, or causing inconvenience or risk, by renewing sections of one or two hundred feet at a time.

The dam has settled in the deep sections of the river some inches below its original level, by the compression of the timber of which it is constructed, and the great weight it sustains. No danger is to be apprehended from this fact, but it has been necessary to maintain the proper head of water in the dam, by raising the rubble backing above the present come of the dam. The rubble is liable to removal in times of freshets. By the repairs proposed, the original level of the dam can be restored, and the work rendered permanent and secure for many years to come.

The present shape of the roof, or upper section of the dam, is represented in the accompanying Figure 1. It is suggested by the undersigned to change the form of this section to that represented by the Figure 2. By this change less surface will be exposed to decay in low stages of water, and less liability to accident and violence from ice or other floating bodies passing over the dam.

It may be necessary at some future day to strengthen the dam by additional cribs in front of the present structure, to be filled with stone, and united to the present dam, as suggested by Mr. Frederick Graff, the present engineer of the works. When this addition is made, it is recommended that the sectional shape, represented in Figure 2, shall be preserved, as preferable to the shape of Figure 1. The undersigned do not deem this precaution necessary now, or so long as the lower timbers remain sound. If constructed now, the operation of decay would commence long before such an addition would be necessary. The undersigned do not deem any general repairs necessary, beyond those suggested, for many years to come.

It does not appear that the dam has sustained any injury from the great ice-freshet of last winter, beyond the removal of a few sheet-planks, which have been left off until the present time to facilitate the present examination.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

An Ordinance to provide for the Commencement of Instruction in the Girard College.

Whereas, the buildings intended for the accommodation and instruction of the pupils of the Girard College, are so far constructed as to render it practicable to commence the organization of the Institution, by receiving such number of scholars as can now be conveniently taught and maintained therein, as well for the purpose of adopting a wise system of instruction, as to make the College available at the earliest practicable time—therefore,

Be it ordained and enacted by the Citizens of Philadelphia in Select and Common Councils assembled, That the sum of six thousand dollars per annum be, and the same is hereby appropriated, to be paid to the Trustees of the Girard College for Orphans, in the usual manner, for the purpose of enabling them to perfect the organization of the said College by receiving and instructing in the College buildings now constructed, such number of poor white male orphans, not less than twenty-five in number, as designated by the late Stephen Girard in his Will, as they may find it from time to time expedient to admit, which orphans shall be instructed and maintained under such regulations, as to the number of teachers to be employed, the salaries to be paid, and to the system to be pursued in the said College, as the said Board of Trustees may prescribe, subject to the approbation of the Select and Common Councils. And the Building Committee of the Girard College for Orphans are hereby authorized to put the said Trustees in possession of such of the buildings now constructed as may be required for the accommodation of the President of the College and the teachers and pupils under his charge. REPORT:

That the Committee visited the different Engine and Hose establishments on the 17th and 18th instant, and were pleased to find the apparatus belonging to each company in excellent order and condition, with the exception of three companies, whose engine and hose carriages were undergoing some repairs, but would be ready for service in a few days.

The tabular statement appended to this Report, will exhibit the names of the different Fire Engine and Hose Companies, the number of honorary, active, and attentive members; also, the number of feet of hose belonging to each, and situation respecting the tenure of their location.
